Term- 1st

1. Answer the following questions.

a. What is change? Explain.

Ans. Change means to become something different. Things around us are changing all the time. The sun's position changes all the time. When we wake up in the morning we see the sun rising in the east and it sets in the west. People, animal, plants, weather, shape of the moon are changing all the time.

b. How does a family change?

Ans. Families change over time. Change in a family usually happens when babies are born, marriages take place or when a family member moves away. There is one thing that never changes, that is the love among the family members. Parents work hard to take care of their families. Families are important because all the members of a family take care of each other.

c. What are the changes in a new born baby as it grows?

Ans. At first, the new-born baby needs to be fed and picked up when it cries. The mother has to devote a lot of time. The baby grows and changes with time. It starts crawling and has two tiny teeth. It smiles when it sees the other members of the family.

d. What are the important occasions in a family and how do we celebrate these occasions?

Ans. There are many important occasions such as wedding, birthdays and festivals. We celebrate these occasions with great joy. They bring the family closer. The family members have great fun. They dance, sing and have good food together.
