Id-UI-Fitr is one of the major festivals which is widely celebrated by Muslims across the world. Although it is a Muslim festival, people of other religions celebrate it along with Muslims, with great joy. Id-UI-Fitr is also known as the festival of breaking the fast. It marks the end of Ramadan month or the month of fasting and prayer. After Ramadan, when the new moon is seen, the next day Id-UI-Fitr is celebrated. Eid spreads the message of love and brotherhood. On this day we go to nearby mosque to offer namaz (prayer). On this day we also give money to the poor and needy and meet our dear ones with hugs and greet each other by saying 'Eid Mubarak' or 'Khair Mubarak'. Popular Delicacies like Biryani and Sheer Khurma are prepared at home and enjoyed by the family, food is even distributed to neighbours and relatives on this day. Children are very happy on this festival as they are given Eidi (gift) by elders.
