

ST. LAWRENCE HIGH SCHOOL

A JESUIT CHRISTIAN MINORITY INSTITUTION

WORKSHEET 6 SOLUTION

Sub: ENGLISH 'B'

Class: XI

F.M: 15

Topic: Upon Westminster Bridge (Grammar)

Date: 22.06.2020

DO AS DIRECTED :

1x15=15

1. I never felt a calm so deep. (change the voice)

Ans: A calm so deep was never felt by me.

2. Never saw I, never felt, a calm so deep! (change to passive voice)

Ans: A calm so deep was never seen or felt by me.

3. Dull would he be of soul who could pass by a sight so touching in its majesty. (change to a simple sentence)

Ans: A soul, passing by a sight so touching in its majesty, would be considered dull.

4. Never did Sun more beautifully steep. (use positive degree)

Ans: The Sun did never steep as beautifully as it did then.

5. This city now doth, like ____ garment wear ____ beauty ____ the morning; silent, bare. (fill in the blanks with appropriate articles and prepositions)

Ans: This city now doth, like a garment wear the beauty of the morning; silent, bare.

6. I have never felt a calm so deep. (rewrite by using a relative clause)

Ans: I have never felt a calm which is so deep.

7. That heart which is mighty is lying still. (remove the relative clause)

Ans: That mighty heart is lying still.

8. The city wears a garment. It is silent and bare. (join by using relative clause)

Ans: The city wears a garment which is silent and bare.

9. The crossing of the bridge is a delightful experience. (identify the gerund in the sentence)

Ans: crossing.

10. He who could ____ a sight so touching would be dull of soul. (fill in the blank with group verb)

Ans: He who could pass by a sight so touching would be dull of soul.

11. He who could pass by such a sight ____ (be) dull of soul. (use the correct form of the verb)

Ans: He who could pass by such a sight would be dull of soul.

12. The air is smokeless. Everything looks bright.(join by using participle)

Ans: The air being smokeless, everything looks bright.

13. The very houses seem asleep.(change to a complex sentence)

Ans: The very houses seem as if they are asleep.

14. The mighty heart is lying still.(turn into a complex sentence)

Ans: The heart which is mighty is lying still.

15. Dull would he be of soul who could pass by a sight so touching in its majesty.(split into three short simple sentences)

Ans: (i). The sight is very touching in its majesty.

(ii). It is not possible for anyone to pass by such a sight.

(iii). In case of doing so, that person would be considered dull of soul.

Kalyani Banerjee.