

ST. LAWRENCE HIGH SCHOOL

TOPIC: HOT DESERTS

Sub: Geography

Class: 5

F. M. 15

WORKSHEET NO. 10

Date: 23.4.2020

OBJECTIVE QUESTIONS

Choose the correct option : 1x15=15

- 1) A desert is a -
a) fertile land b) productive land c) barren land

- 2) A desert experiences extreme temperature and -
a) low precipitation b) neither high nor low precipitation c) high precipitation

- 3) The Sahara desert lies in -
a) America b) Asia c) Africa

- 4) In the continent of Asia lies the -
a) Australian desert b) Arabian desert c) Atacama desert

- 5) Sahara is the world's -
a) largest cold desert b) smallest hot desert c) largest hot desert

- 6) The Sonoran desert lies in -
a) North America b) Central America c) South America

- 7) Most of the deserts receive rainfall -
a) nearly 200 cm b) not more than 20cm c) more than 20cm

- 8) Ica lies in -
a) Chile b) Peru c) Chad
- 9) Deserts are formed in regions which are -
a) far away from the ocean b) nearer to the ocean c) none of the two
- 10) Most of the hot deserts are found in the western margin of the continents in the -
a) temperate regions b) polar regions c) tropical regions
- 11) Deserts are formed in regions which are cut off by the mountains from the -
a) lakes b) rivers c) oceans
- 12) During daytime the temperature in the hot deserts can reach upto -
a) 55°C b) 45°C c) 65°C
- 13) The low sand hills found in the deserts are called -
a) sand pits b) sand dunes c) sand bars
- 14) The Atacama Desert lies in -
a) North America b) Central America c) South America
- 15) Dust storms can be more than -
a) 1 km high b) 10 km high c) 100 km high

Sanjukta Chakraborty.