D] Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

‘Tom!’

No answer.

‘What’s gone with that boy, I wonder? You Tom!’

No answer

The old lady pulled her spectacles down and looked over them about the room; then she put them up and looked out under them.

‘Well, if I get hold of you I’ll-’

She did not finish, for by this time she was bending down and punching under the bed with the broom. Out ran a cat from underneath.

She went to the open door and stood in it and looked out among the tomato vines and weeds that made up the garden. No Tom.

So she shouted, 'Y-o-u Tom!'

There was a slight noise behind her and she turned just in time to catch a small boy and stopped him from running away.

‘What have you been doing in there?’ she asked.

‘Nothing’, said Tom

She said, ‘Nothing! Look at your hands. And look at your mouth. What is that mess?’

Tom said, ‘I don’t know, aunt,’

‘Well, I know. It’s jam – that’s what it is. Forty times I’ve said if you didn’t let the jam alone, I’d beat you.

‘My! Look behind you, aunt!’

The old lady whirled around and pulled her skirts out of danger. The boy ran quickly, jumped over the fence and disappeared.

His aunt Polly stood surprised a moment, and then broke into a gentle laugh.

- From the Adventures of Tom Sawyer by Mark Twain
