The Turtle Who Could Not Stop Talking

Sub: English Text

Class: 3

Date: 03.07.20

1. Answer the following questions:-

a. With who all and when did the turtle talk?

Ans. The turtle talked to his friends. He talked to strangers and to the man in the moon, he talked to everyone. The turtle talked in the morning. He talked at noon and in the evening, he talked all the time.

b. What did the turtle promise the two geese? Did he keep his promise?

Ans. The turtle promised the two geese that he would keep his mouth closed and not say a word while they were in the air flying above the mountains. No, the turtle did not keep his promise. As they were flying high above the ground the turtle opened his mouth to answer the little village boy.

c. Write five sentences about the author Dr. Mike Lockett.

Ans. Dr. Mike Lockett is an educator, storyteller and a children's author. He has been a performing artist in 31 states and 17 countries. He has won over 25 awards for his books and storytelling products. Dr. Mike Lockett was also called "The Normal Storyteller." His few other famous writings are The Hungry Wolf, The Goats in the Garden, The Giant Pumpkin etc.

d. Imagine that you were the Turtle in the story. Write in five or more sentences describing your fall.

Ans. I was a very talkative turtle. One day I was in the air holding on to a stick. I opened my mouth say something and I let go of the stick. I came crashing down to the cemented floor and landed on my shell. My shell cracked in different places. The people came and turned me over. I slowly walked to the side of the road. I was taken to the animal care centre. I was kept and treated there till spring. As I healed I was set free. I finally was able to move around freely and promised not to be so talkative.
