Paragraph Writing

1. Write ten sentences on Spring Festival 'HOLI'.

Model Paragraph

Holi is known as the festival of colours. We celebrate Holi in the month of March every year. Holi is one of the major Hindu festival which is celebrated by people of other religions with great joy. The term Holi comes from the word 'Holika' who was the sister of demon king 'Hiranyakashyap' and made an attempt to burn 'Pralhad', who was a devotee of Lord Vishnu and was saved. Thus, this festival symbolizes the victory of good over evil. One night before Holi, there is a ritual called 'Holika Dahan' which is performed by burning piles of wood and dry leaves. On Holi people play with water colours in the morning and gulal i.e. dry colours in the evening. They also play drums, sing and dance together. On Holi people enjoy delicacies like Gujiya and Thandai along with other food items. Children especially, love this festival as they get to play with water balloons and colours with their friends.
